SUBJECT: Summertime Office Temperatures

1. The cost of electricity is expected to increase dramatically over the upcoming summer's heating season. In the same manner that we tend to our home's air conditioners to minimize energy consumption and costs, the Army is exerting the same level of effort to contain costs during the upcoming cooling season.

2. Governing AR 11-27, Army Energy Program, stipulates the following:

a. During the cooling season, temperatures in occupied general office space will be maintained in the range of 76 degrees to 80 degrees Fahrenheit (°F) during working hours.

3. Cooling Trouble Calls for offices are to be directed to the DPW Helpdesk at 718 630-4380. Cooling Trouble Calls for residences are to be directed to GMH Helpdesk at 718 630-4697.

4. The POC for Fort Hamilton's Army Energy Program is James Johnson at (718) 630-4145.

230th Anniversary Commemoration, Battle of Brooklyn

This actual battle (then known as the Battle of Long Island), the first between the British and the American colonists following the signing of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia on July 4th, 1776, will be observed on SUNDAY, AUGUST 26TH, 2006 AT 1:00 PM IN GREEN-WOOD CEMETERY. This local conflict resulted in the creation of the very first battle streamer issued to the Continental Army.

The sequence of events for that day consist of:

1 PM - Revolutionary War reenactors in period uniforms and using period-type artillery and infantry weapons will assemble at the main gate, 5th Ave & 25th St.

1:30 PM - the band from the US Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point NY will lead the parade of onlookers and participants up to Battle Hill where the ceremony will commence.

2 PM - an address by Prof. William Parry of the History Dept., CUNY's Hunter College on the historical perspective of this battle.

The event will also include an array of Revolutionary War flags from the collection of the Sons of the American Revolution collection maintained at historic Fraunces Tavern and a delegation from the State of Maryland representing the "Maryland 400" who valiantly gave their lives to permit Gen. Washington and the remnants of our Continental Army to escape to Manhattan and then NJ to replenish their ranks and fight another day. The ceremonies will conclude with a reception at the nearby Rawley Post of the American Legion which was built in the early 20th century atop the burial sites of many of the American war dead from this battle.

It should be a most festive occasion..bring young children who will get another perception of historic Green-Wood Cemetery. TELL YOUR FRIENDS & NEIGHBORS!!
